

This architectural floor plan illustrates the layout of a restaurant, divided into several functional zones. At the top, a long bar area is depicted with a series of rectangular stools, each labeled with the number '10'. The bar is flanked by a 'Theke' (bar counter) on the left and a 'Musikempore' (music stage) on the right. Below the bar, the main dining area is filled with rectangular tables, some of which are labeled with the number '10'. A central 'EINGANG' (entrance) is marked with a white diamond shape. To the right of the entrance, there is a 'Kasse' (cashier) area. The bottom of the plan shows a row of seven rectangular tables, each labeled with the number '8'. The layout is designed to maximize seating while maintaining clear circulation paths.

204 unten, 56 Empore
260 Stühle

